Falcon tempo

ACTION ... PROGRESS ... FRIENDSHIP ... involvement ... all had a way of sweeping nearly 1,700 Falcons into an unique pace ... and there was room for all.

Walking through the Commons Area one was captured in its warmth of laughter, chatter, anticipation. New friends made newer friends, old friendships grew, experiences were shared ... the excitement of winning games, the challenge of tests, the gay dances, voting, debates, field trips, working on projects, attending club meetings, pep assemblies ... all broadened individual horizons and created an atmosphere of belonging.

The Falcon band was rated the best, the football team started a winning season, there were more National Merit winners, drama drew applause for its excellence ____.

Such was the spirit that freed us and joined us with the changing wind in a perpetual search for movement ... the Falcon tempo.

1. WE DID IT — won our first football game against Salina. 2. MAKE WAY — for the Fighting Falcons is a typical Mr. Falcon take-off. 3. ALL THAT CASH — just to enroll in school. 4. COLD OUTSIDE — but that special Falcon feeling radiates warmth inside. 5. FROM THE BOOKS — came knowledge and understanding. 6. SUCH A HARD DAY — and now we must wait for a ride.

1. DEFENSE STRATEGY — from Coach Johnson to Steve Anderson upset the Mustangs. 2. WE'RE NUMBER 1 — insist seniors Steve Seminoff, Kim Mandle, Pam Knox, Frankie Grey, Vicki Shea, Charolotte Wylie, Mike Sowards, Denise Schroer, Fred Love, Peggy Howland, Nancy Nuckolls, Donna Johnson, Debbie Hardy, Steve Anderson, Barbara Underwood, Kathy Troll, Dave Nigg, and Ann Homberger. 3. PROOF — the Falcons are Number 1. Billy Ray, '71, Mike Harper, '71, Doug Lee, '70, Vaughn Anderson, '70, Brent Anderson, '70, hold winning trophies. 4. SCHOOL FLOWER — iris bloom in the spring in front of the building. 5. WE WON — proudly the Victory Flag waves.

Falcon progress . . .

IMPROVEMENT NOW — not later demanded the Falcons and change came.

Students accepted more responsibility not only at school but in community activities. They participated in Wichita's one hundredth anniversary celebration and attended events at new Century II. They became interested in the dramatic moon landing and progress in conquering space.

For the first time the Falcon football squad met its opponents on a poly-turf field at the expanded WSU Cessna stadium.

Progress came and the Falcons welcomed it.

1. LETTERMEN? — ah-now Patty you're putting us on. 2. DAY IS DONE — now for the breakthrough in the Commons Area. 3. IN CLASSES — some concentrated others slept. 4. FALCON SHERIFF — stares down offenders. 5. POWDER-PUFFERS BUSHED — and it was only halftime. 6. O-O-O-H-H-H — Falcons fight 'em'! 7. A MUST — to beat the mustangs.

SOPHISTICATED SENIORS — in the faculty lounge, Anne Gorham, Kristy Chambers, Jay Myers, Sherri Alderman, Monica Schrimer, Steve Lusk, Claudette Royal, Sandy Berry, Keith Richey, Debbie Crow, Zach Ruhl. 3. VICTORIOUS — Keith Richey was swept into the office of president of the Class of '70. 4. BETWEEN CLASSES — Cindy Scott and Nancy Phillips agree "We're going to beat Salina." 5. IT RAINED — but spirits weren't dampened as the first pep rally was held inside. 6. READY! — Kendall Scheer, 71, drum major pauses during half-time.

Falcon friendship . . .

FRIENDSHIP . . . one of the by-products of school can last all of your life. Groups . . . interaction . . . crowds . . . sensitivity and more interaction . . . each individual found his own particular "in-group" creating strong, lasting friendships.

The contentment of being near friends . . . parties out-of-school . . . intermingling with friends in the Commons Area . . . the cheering voice of friends as a football game was won . . . double dating . . . all were a meaningful growth of friendship . . . from school contacts.

Perhaps no other by-product will ever surpass that of friendship. School makes friendship. Friendship makes the school.

1. TEACHERS PET — Zach sweetened them with donuts and apples on teachers appreciation day. 2. GROOVIN' — to the rhythm of the Board of Regents at the Falcon week dance.

administrators direct

At Heights, Assistant Principal Jerry D. Bailey, in his second year here, and Assistant Principal Martin Smith, new to Heights this year, spent their days with a maze of activities . . . enrollment tallies, scheduling activities, student and parent conferences, hall traffic, bus loading were but a few.

Mr. Smith's office was moved into the former conference room. This placed Mr. Bailey's office between the offices of Dr. Anderson and Mr. Smith, both alumni of the University of Wyoming, Laramie. Mr. Bailey, realizing his position since he is an alumni of the University of Oklahoma, Norman, asked for support from the faculty members especially in athletic contests, one of their favorite topics of discussion.

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS — Dr. Alvin E. Morris

to know dr. anderson

COMPLEX MAN — Principal Robert E. Anderson . . . Dr. Anderson . . . Dr. A. . . . these are the names of the ruler of the Kingdom of Heights.

The facets of the personality of the man who directs nearly 1,770 Falcons, 72 faculty members, and 43 building personnel are many.

Dr. A. has many personalities. He took great pride in Heights' neat, colorful campus, enjoyed boosting athletic teams, an ardent music fan (preferably musical comedy and classical), attended drama productions whenever possible, and is a numismatist.

He served on the constitution committee of the Wichita Administrators League, is a member of the Greater Athletic League, is immediate past president and member of the Executive Board of Wichita School Administrators Association. He has been a lecturer in school law and administration for the past several years at WSU.

WHILE EATING CHILI — at the senior feast Dr. Anderson visits with Mr. Bailey.

ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL — Martin E. Smith

SPORTS ENTHUSIAST — Dr. Robert E. Anderson, principal of Heights for seven and one-half years.

PREPARING — for the presentation of his topic for his WSU class.

PAPERWORK — requires much of his time.

SENIOR COUNSELOR Mrs. Claradine Johnson.

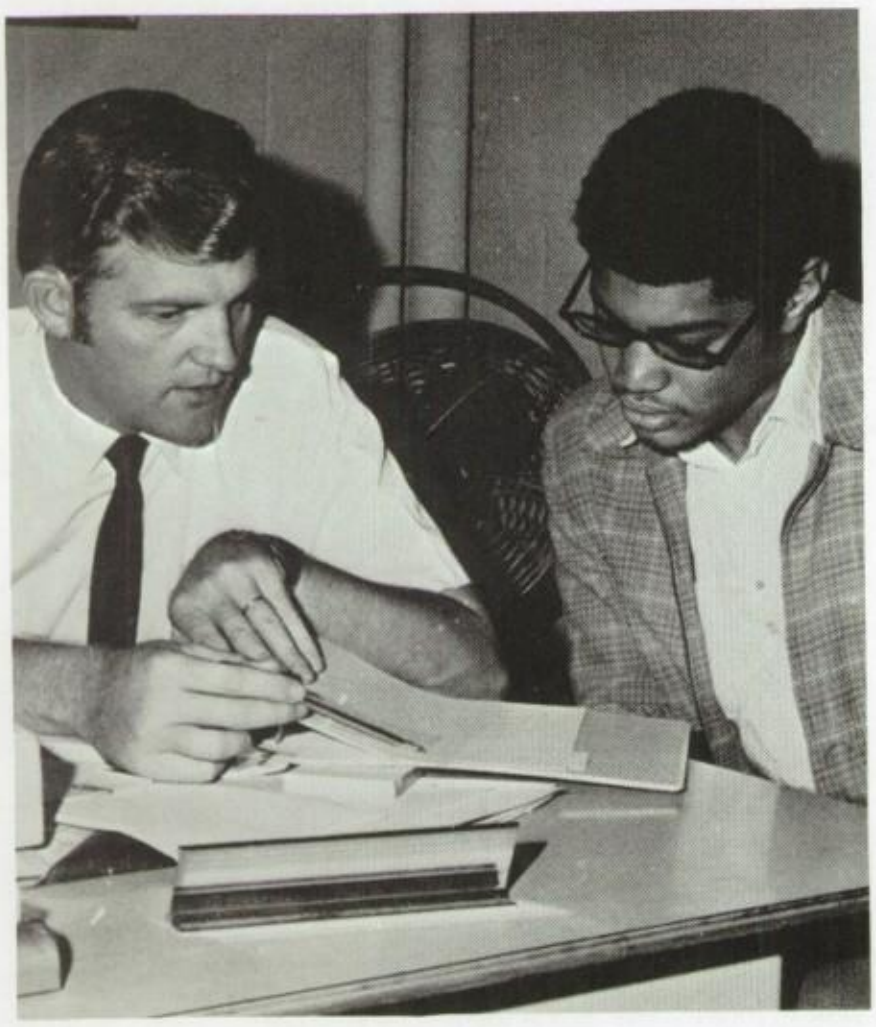
enrollment mounts — counseling trio kept busy

MOUNTING enrollment was again faced by the trio of counselors headed by Mr. Norris Burke and his assistants Mrs. Claradine Johnson and Mr. Kenneth Gabrielson, but they put the needs and desires of each individual student first.

SCHEDULE CHANGES — kept counselor Kenneth Gabrielson's first days at Heights full.



MR. BURKE, taking an added load of more than 200 students over his last year's seniors, rotated to the position of sophomore counselor.

After having been a principal at all three levels of education, he tackled the role as a counselor. He has published a Nation-wide periodical titled "Guidance System at Wichita Heights."

On the walls of his office can be seen framed colored end sheets of nearly every yearbook produced at Heights. This is proof of his pride in the Falcons.

MRS. JOHNSON, as senior counselor, drew the responsibility of writing college references for more than 500 students. "I always try to rate my students upward when I'm writing references," admitted Mrs. Johnson in an understanding way.

Previously a business teacher at East High, she admitted liking the role of counselor because of the high rewards gained. In between her pile-up as a counselor she also served as adviser of class activities.

MR. GABRIELSON, newest member of the trio, started in as a junior counselor replacing Mr. Warren Lewis.

It was his concern for teens that caused him to choose counseling rather than a role as an administrator.

Before coming to Heights he spent three years at El Dorado and Marysville High Schools and at Marshall Junior High in Wichita.

Golf provides Mr. Gabrielson with the relaxation needed from his counselor duties.

language arts

aids self-understanding

"LANGUAGE ARTS try to help the student develop a deeper understanding of himself and the culture into which he was born," said Mr. Olin Hiebert, department head.

Needs of the students were met by offering a wide choice of subjects including composition courses, literature, college reading, and AP English. For those with an interest in journalism, two years of journalism and yearbook study was offered.

Speech offered training phases of theatre production and public speaking. Beginning with the fundamentals of speech, the courses progressed through interpretation, acting, stagecraft, and public address.

Promoting wider participation in forensics and dramatics resulted in attracting more students. Action increased with the presenting of pit productions for various classes. Debaters probed and constantly researched to learn a better approach for their topics. To develop philosophies of their own, humanities students researched mankind's civilizations. Members visited historical and art museums at the Kansas City institutions.

Miss Fayeann Sandstrum — Humanities, English.

Mr. Olin R. Heibert — Language Arts Department Head, English Composition, English Literature, College Reading, English.

Mrs. Jody Lee Charter — English.

Mrs. Mary N. Bingham — AP English, College Reading, English Composition, English.

Mrs. Avanelle Barnett — English.

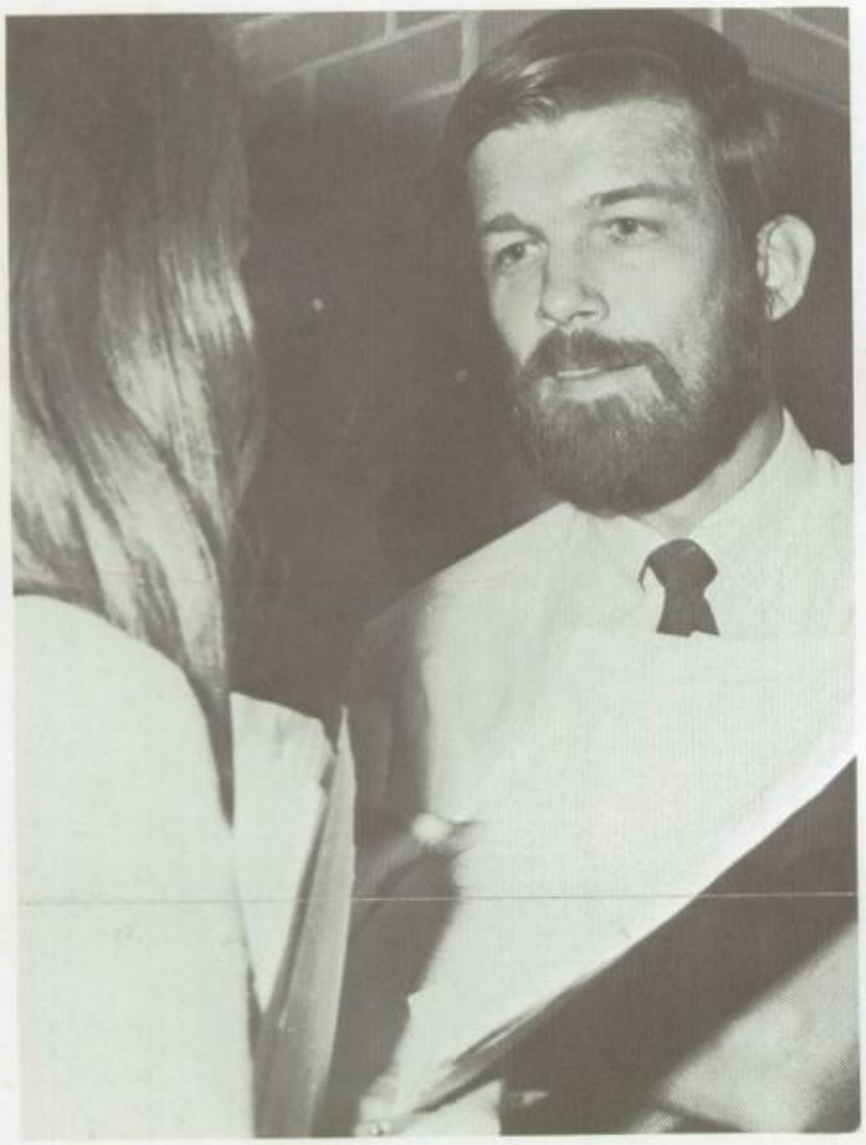
Mr. Mark Hardick — English, English Composition, English Literature, College Reading.

Miss Diana Patton — English.

Mrs. Carrie Walters — English, Special Education.

Mr. Edward Thompson — English.

Mrs. B. Schneider — English, Journalism, Publications.



BEARDED ONE — doing his thing. Mr. Deb Johnson, social science department head, started the school year with a new look.

Mr. Charles Lawson —

Mr. Wayne J. Holmstrom — Vocal Music.

Miss Mary Jabara — Drama Director.

Mrs. Kathleen Catt — Debate, Speech.

music

is meant to be enjoyed

MUSIC is meant to be enjoyed and through the varied concert schedule the Falcons shared their talent with the community.

In the first vocal concert, October 28, a sophomore choir of over 180 voices presented musical selections. This was the introduction to a busy schedule of concerts presented by the vocalists.

A 80-member concert choir, 21 forming the madrigal group, and the 59 fourth hour choir members used, for the first time at the fall concert, the new choral shells and new risers.

From the first and second hour bands, students were selected for the 128-piece marching band which Kendall Scheer, drum major, lead through colorful routines during half-times at football games, WSU and KU Band Days, and the Veterans' Day parade.

Performing for the Kansas Music Educators Association's opening session last November was the first public appearance made by the orchestra. Later in the year the group performed at the University of Kansas, Lawrence.

Mrs. Cheryl Nordstedt — English.

Mr. Larry D. Glessner — English.

social studies

uses dynamic approach

MAKING SOCIAL studies a vital part in students' lives, various cultures were probed through independent study and group dynamics approaches. American History students used simulations and debates to illustrate the events of history. World history students investigated political, social, intellectual, and religious factors of past cultures. Psychology used experiments in social living while sensitivity training helped students learn about themselves. Field trips to the court house, attending mock United Nations, and other related ideas helped them in their classes. International relations and Negro history were new courses opened this year.

Mrs. Donna Copley — Psychology, U.S. History.

Mrs. Ruth Karban — Sociology, Government.

Mrs. Jane Ware — Sociology, U.S. History.

Mr. Deb Johnson — U.S. History, Social Studies Seminar, Current Events.

Mr. Shiu Shankar — World History, World Georgraphy, Current Events.

Mr. Donald N. Turner — U.S. History, Negro History.

Mr. Clark Herrin — Algebra, Basic Math.

Mr. Ronal Johnson — U.S. History, Special Education.

Mr. Patrick N. Adamson — Government, American History.

Mrs. Gini Coleman — U.S. History, Spanish I.

math

no moon trip without it

HOW COULD you get to the moon without math? That's how important it is. Perhaps not all will want to travel in space. Every day problems demand a knowledge of math too.

A wide variety of math classes offered geometry, Algebra I, Algebra II, basic math, trigonometry, analytical geometry, and physics. One-third to one-half of the total enrollment was involved in some type of math course. Six teachers met 24 classes each day.

Although determination and hard work were required to succeed, the pleasure of conquering a difficult problem was evident all the way from the Baby Falcons with their geometry books to the seniors whose trig books became their constant companions.

Math knowledge was used in all kinds of everyday problems, making change for the sale of spirit ribbons, buttons, refreshments, ads, candy, and ticket selling were but a few.

Yes, it took math to get to the moon, but it required math to return to earth also.

Mr. Mose Stucky — Algebra.

Mr. Ralph Hoagland — Algebra.

Mr. Louis Rogers — Physics, Basic Math, Trig, Analytic, Geometry, Math Department Head.

Mr. Royal H. Owens — Geometry.

encourages discovery

FROM NINE offered courses in science and related fields interested students stated their preferences and embanked on the wonderful world of experience and discovery.

Highlighting the aeronautics course were two field trips, the first a pre-flight inspection of an airplane plus a 20-minute orientation flight at Midwest Piper Airpark, the second a tour of the Municipal Airport and surrounding plane factories.

Since one course in science was required for graduation, students chose between physical science and biology.

Two new faculty members joined the science department this year, Mr. James Matson and Mr. Ernest Drowatzky. In Mr. Matson's physics classes much stress was placed on "thinking," involving the individual expressing his own ideas. Mr. Drowatzky taught biology and physical science classes.

Chemistry included the study of chemical composition and behavior of various compounds through performing actual experiments in the laboratory. Experimental lab sessions in zoology and physics also gave students the chance to produce the answers for themselves.

Accenting Mr. Judd's astronomy and geology classes were several interesting field trips. A trip to the Hutchinson planetarium offered students an experience to watch and identify different constellations.

Mr. Harold Mast — Biology, Zoology.

Mr. William Judd — Science Department Head, Chemistry, Basic Science, Aeronautics.

Mr. Lewis Hitch — Biology, Physiology.

Mr. James E. Matson — Physics, Biology.

Mr. Bob Bridges — Commercial Design, Drawing and Painting.

Mr. Terry C. Aikins — Sculpture, Crafts, Introduction to Art.

art

develops individualism

IN ART CLASSES future Picassos and Van Goghs produced arts and crafts that expressed their individualism.

Water color, charcoal, pencil, pastels, ink, oil, clay, and yarn were among the medias used by inspired students.

Art was first introduced in the most basic elements. After students learned simple skills, they experimented in more diverse areas in which individuality and uniqueness was stressed.

The special arts production class decorated the building before holidays. At Halloween students were "spooked" by "creatures" in the halls, and at Thanksgiving a turkey feather disperser bewildered them, while at Christmas a jelly bean machine added to their merriment.

Mrs. Wilma Paltanavage — Typing, Clerical Training, Business.

Mr. Ernest M. Drowatzky — Biology, Physical Science.

Mrs. Delores Eades — Business Arithmetic, Business Law, Business Economics.

Mrs. Sue D. Ingram — Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Clerical Training, Introduction to Business.

business

adds electronic system

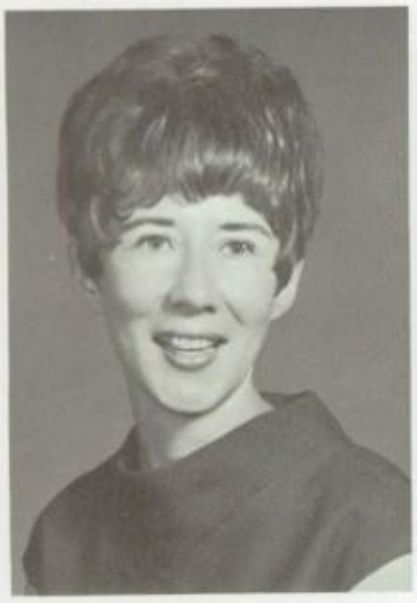
BUSINESS classes started the year hoping the $8,000 wireless electronic system would arrive at anytime. With such a system a new frontier would be open to business students.

Typing enrolled the largest number of the 740 students that filled the department to capacity using four full-time teachers.

Active Future Business Leaders in America, the only public school in Wichita with such an organization, sent its members to the district at Winfield in February, the state meeting in March, and planned to have members at the national convention in Philadelphia in June.

Mrs. Vera Hunter — Shorthand, Office Practice.

Mr. Keith Wilson — Business Department Head, Typing, Bookkeeping.



Mrs. Margaret Skewes — Home Economics Department Head, Family Relations, Clothing, Home Furnishing.

Mrs. Jeanne Belew — Clothing.

home economics

prepares for the future

FACING future home life with a better background was the aim of home economics courses as teachers geared their classes to help each student get ready for the years ahead of them.

Personality, its difference in people, and how it affects marriages and relationship with others was explored. Child development classes made a field trip to the St. Francis Hospital's maternity ward. A spring fashion show at which girls modeled their class-made garments, some knitted, was another highlight. Those tangy, heavenly aromas came from the foods room where girls prepared food, even foreign dishes.

Mrs. Jeannine Criss — French.

Mr. Gerhard Nickel — German, Geology, Astronomy, Basic Science.

Mrs. Rose Marie Estill — Spanish.

Mrs. Truly E. Yust — Latin, Humanities, Introduction to Art.

foreign language

emphasizes speaking

DAILY "guten tag", "salve," "buenos dias," and "bonjour" greeted the five teachers in the foreign language department. Enrollment in Spanish, French, German, and Latin totalled 436.

Emphasis was placed upon the conversational aspect of foreign languages because of the more extensive traveling now being done by students.

Vocabulary, sentence structure, history, traditions, and customs were stressed in each class regardless of the year of study.

New ideas and material, including pictures, film strips, and tapes, were used in the modern languages.

Mrs. Mary Highsmith — Special Education.

Mrs. Susan Matthews — Child Care, Clothing.

Mrs. Louise King — Foods.

Mr. James F. Fowler — Printing, Drafting, Woodworking.

Mr. R. F. Tackkett — Auto Information, Auto Mechanics, Metals.

Mr. Oren Smith — Vocational Welding, Welding, Metals.

practical arts

boys build, weld, draw, overhaul machines

PRINTING football programs . . . overhauling engines . . . building minibikes . . . working on "outside" cars . . . putting final touches on cutting boards . . . learning the uses of drawing tools . . . this and much more happened daily in the southwest wing where industrial arts classes met each hour of the day.

Printing classes, taught by Mr. James Fowler, set up football, wrestling, and concert programs and ran them off the presses. They also printed all of the tickets for concerts.

Unique experiences attracted the boys in Mr. Richard Tackkett's auto mechanic's classes. Students overhauled engines, inspected and measured parts, and then compared them to factory specifications.

Minibikes were fascinating projects in Mr. Edward Wagner's metals and welding classes, although several students constructed end tables, tools, and toolboxes.

Covering all parts of the car, Mr. Eldon Zimbleman's vocational auto mechanic classes worked on "outside" cars.

Vocational welding students, instructed by Mr. Oren Smith, completed the new welding room which was equipped with new and modern equipment.

At the annual practical arts display in May, each boy was responsible for showing two projects made in class during the year.

Mr. Logan Guffey — Woodworking.

Mr. Roger K. Birckhead — Drafting, Pre-Engineering, Metals, Practical Arts Department Head.

Mr. Eldon Zimbelman — Vocational Auto Mechanics.

Mr. Edward Wagner — Metals, Welding.

Mr. Fred L. Simmons — Drivers Education.

Mr. Jack L. Mahan — Drivers Education.

physical education

at last — tennis courts

NEW TENNIS courts stand proudly on the south edge of the campus. Started in September, they were too late to be used in the fall, but spring found them constantly in use during and after school. Much needed lockers in the boys' locker room was another welcome addition.

In classes boys participated in flag football and soccer during the fall; volleyball, basketball, swimming, wrestling, and gymnastics were winter sports; spring brought outdoor sports, track, softball, tennis.

For boys not out for competitive sports of the season, an intramural program was headed by Coach Lafayette Norwood. Nearly 30 boys participated each evening in swimming, ping pong, volleyball, weightlifting, and running.

In the fall girls played field hockey in after-school competitive games. During the winter season basketball, volleyball, swimming, and gymnastics kept the girls physically fit. Spring brought softball and track for the girls plus archery.

a plea for more books

STILL SHORT of the required number of books (30,000) for the size of the school, the 12,885 books were over used by students writing term papers, researching, checking out fiction, or just reading.

Even the 700 plus books added this year failed to meet the minimum requirement.

Approximately 60 students crowded the library each hour of the day. Small groups used the conference room, others used the vertical files, still others made use of the tape recorders and record players. In the comfortable reading section students browsed through 85 different magazines.

A new Kasette tape recorder and tapes for listening and taping discussions became a favorite of students and teachers. Headquarters for audio-visual aids, the faculty made constant demands of Mrs. Nadine Ritchey, head librarian, and her two assistants for projectors, recorders, film strips, and screens — all kept on the balcony area.

Mr. Jim Lininger — Drivers Education, Athletic Director.

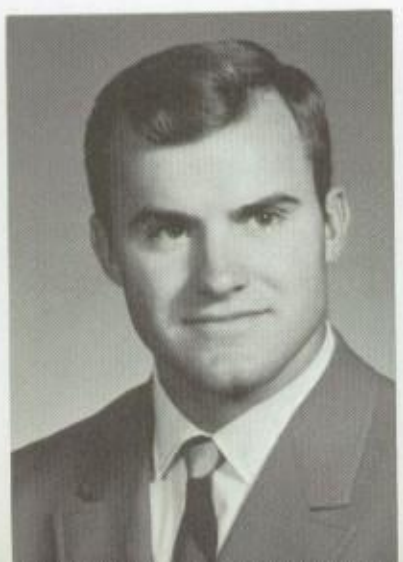
Mr. C. Dee Gard — Physical Education Department Head.

Mrs. Nadine Ritchey — Librarian.

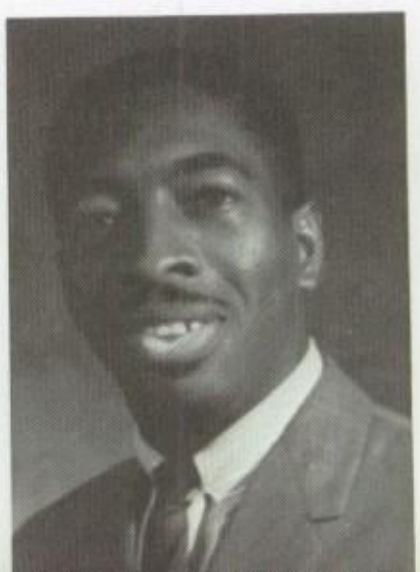
Mrs. Betty Batten — Librarian.

Miss Jean Drake — Physical Education.

Mr. Hugh Nicks — Basic Science.



Mr. Lafayette Norwood — Physical Education.



Mrs. Luann McDowell — Physical Education.

PHONING — parents to inform them of a student's illness was part of Nurse Faldtz's duties.

DENTAL CHECKS — were promoted each year and Nurse Faldtz scheduled them.

CHECKING EYES — was important because reading ability counts in any class.

school nurse tends to a 'big family'

WITH THE ENROLLMENT soar came increasing demands on Nurse Earnestine Faldtz' time.

In her second year as full-time nurse her duties included providing emergency care for the nearly 1,700 students who met with accidents, became ill, or who needed special vision, dental, or hearing defect checks.

An average of 45 students per day visited the health center seeking help for headaches, stomach aches, or sore throats — the most common complaints. In many cases Nurse Faldtz served as a counselor and adviser for students ills were sometimes caused by emotional problems — and she enjoyed it all.

She felt that her job was more than being a nurse — that it was important to promote health education also. Because of this she promoted and sponsored the Medical Careers Club.

Not only were the students the ones who needed medical aid and advice, faculty members trudged to her office when they had colds and needed medical assistance. Yes, Nurse Faldtz's hours were busy ones.

Mrs. Cleda Marlow, activity office secretary.

Mrs. Mary Lafferty, bookkeeper, head secretary.

Mrs. Mariann McClellan, attendance secretary.

Mrs. Bonnie Weir, registrar.

front office

gears maze of activities

A MAZE of activities . . . that's the front office. Starting work at 7:30 the office geared for action during the 8-9 a.m. heavy traffic hour.

Private secretary of Dr. Robert E. Anderson, Mrs. Mary Lafferty also served as the school's bookkeeper and treasurer.

"I really got some weird excuses," grinned Mrs. Mariann McClellan, the familiar face to students presenting her tardy and absent permits.

Mrs. Bonnie Weir, registrar, Mrs. Linda Peck, and Miss Felicia Reaves, taking on numerous jobs, were all vital in the smooth operation of the front office maze.

back office

keeps secretary 'busy'

MORE INK . . . more fluid were the cries of students running off ditto masters for tests and classroom assignments. Mrs. Cleda Marlow, director of the back office activities, saw that stock room supplies were never short, served as secretary for three counselors, and supervised students operating office machines.

Being the lone clerk she met an unending line of students as they waited to see their counselors.

"I'm never sure what all I'll be doing next," said Mrs. Marlow at the beginning of the busy year.

Mrs. Linda Peck, clerk.

Miss Alice Reaves, front office clerk.

Mrs. Faye Davis, library assistant.

Mrs. Gloria Short, business aide.

cafeteria, snack bar

tempting food keeps Falcons in top condition

F-O-O-D was the temptation that penetrated minds of most Falcons long before fourth hour.

Mrs. Kieferle, manager of Heights food service, and her 28 staff assistants were aware of this, therefore they had the 8 ovens and 25-gallon kettles filled and cooking by 6:15 every morning. Approximately 1,500 students were served each day, but they catered Ingalls Elementary School also. Baking of breads was done early in the morning. One of the processes used in baking breads was the purefier oven which raised the bread to the desired height.

When a door to the cafeteria opened, the tempting aroma of baking bread caused many to have sudden hunger attacks.

Planned menus came from the downtown office. Unprepared food was delivered from Central Warehouse.

An average menu for one day consisted of vegetable soup, Spanish rice, mashed potatoes, and spinach. Three types of salads were offered daily as were three desserts.

Decorations, fitting for each holiday, greeted students as they filed through the north and south lines choosing their daily meals before entering the dining area of the cafeteria.

CAFETERIA COOKS — Front Row: Mrs. Rose Mary Allee, Mrs. Thelma Beth, Mrs. Norma Dorsey, Mrs. Buelah Brown, Mrs. Esther Cohoon, Mrs. Cecile Cox. Back Row: Mr. James Ganther, Mrs. Louise Curfman, Mrs. Rita Covey, Mrs. Nila Howell, Mrs. Mildred Laughary, Mrs. Helen Edwards, Mrs. Myrtle Ramsey, Mrs. Mildred Hedrech, Mrs. Audie Shelton, Mrs. Shirley Clift.

TOP MANAGER — Mrs. Thelma Kieferle was never tiring in seeing the best was prepared for hungry Falcons.

EARLY MORNING — Mrs. M. Topley and Mrs. M. Laughary prepare salads for Falcon vegetarians.

PIE BAKERS — Mrs. B. Brown and Mrs. R. Covey were masters at baking those favorite lemon meringue pies.

HUNGRY — students' plates were filled by Mrs. E. Cohoon.

AT LUNCH TIME — cashiers Mrs. J. Epp and Mrs. B. Kerns collected money. Mrs. V. Feldhausen (below) served students at the snack bar.

food's fine, saves time

FAVORITE EATING place for many students during the 30-minute lunch hour was the snack bar in the Commons Area. It was a scramble-survive system, but nearly 600 students preferred the cokes, malts, sandwiches, and potato chips served there rather than waiting in the long cafeteria lines.

During an average noon hour period over 450 drinks, 500 sandwiches, and 300 bags of potato chips were consumed.

The food was ready to serve so it did not have to be dished up as in the cafeteria.

PROMPT — with their service Mrs. C. Baker, Mrs. V. Feldhausen, Mrs. J. Smith, and Mrs. D. Gifford served food at the snack bar.

SECURITY GUARD — Mr. Verne Graves directed bus loading and unloading.

BEAUTIFUL — was what Mr. Jim Upchurch, head grounds supervisor, wanted Heights to be and it is.

caretakers

keep Heights beautiful

ANY TIME residents and visitors to Wichita see the Heights campus their remarks are very similar . . . "It's beautiful." Even the local newspaper found it pleasing enough to print a front page, color picture of the school.

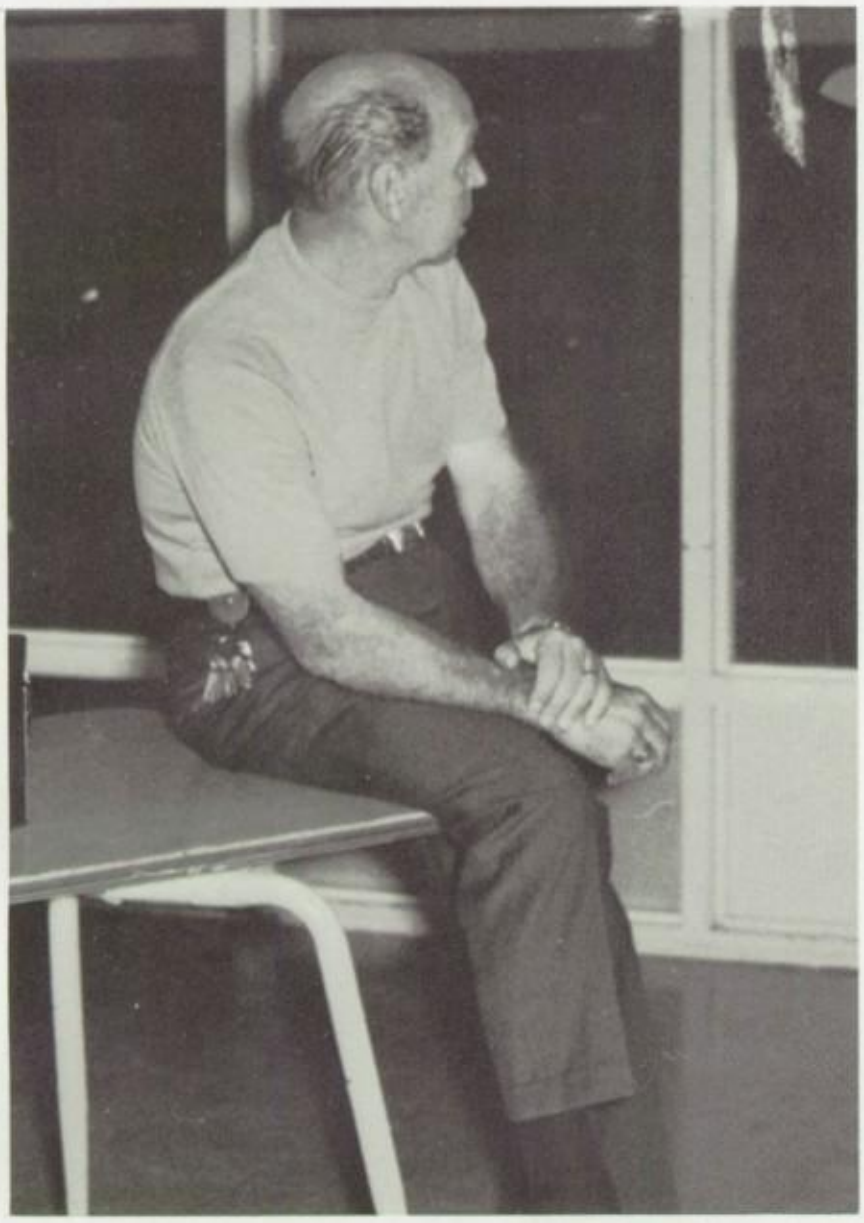
On most any day you could see Mr. Jim Upchurch and Mr. Elvin Robins working diligently and with pride to bring beauty to Heights.

The colorful, flowering plants seen during the year included geraniums, petunias, daisies, marigolds, irises, vincas, salivas, cannas, double rose moss, and chrysanthemums.

Year round the uniqueness of a tree can be seen in the pine, redbud, locus, elm, coffee, sweet gum, flowering crab and peach, purple leaf plum, golden rain, maple, Russian olive, and Mimosa trees. The evergreen species, displaying colorful berry plants, included the pyrancantha and canardy trees. In the front entrance of the school is the Chinese mulberry tree on which every leaf is different.

Our campus is truly beautiful!

AT GAMES — Mr. Elvin Robins, Mr. Lawrence Underwood, and Mr. Upchurch were staunch Falcon supporters.



ALWAYS AROUND — Mr. Larry Underwood, building supervisor, was present at all activities.

building maintainers

keep Heights spotless

RESPONSIBLE for maintenance of the school facilities that students often take for granted, the custodial staff found their job proved to be a round-the-clock responsibility especially during the winter months when constant attention had to be given to the heating system.

Spotless restrooms, shiny floors, clean chalkboards, empty trash cans, and orderly rooms were just a few results the ever-busy staff achieved.

Mr. Larry Underwood, head custodian, organized scheduled shifts of non-stop upkeep. He attended all activities in the building so, in event anything went wrong or added equipment was needed it could be done. In fact, Mr. Underwood seemed to enjoy the social activities.

Members of the staff were always around during any activity and were always ready to assist when help was needed. After parties or social functions they could be seen helping move chairs, sweeping, and getting things in order for the next school day.

Seldom faltering in their jobs, the group was always on the go making sure Heights was adequate, suitable, and pleasing to the students, faculty, and visitors.

CHIEF ENGINNEER — Mr. Roy Harrison checked the electrical system and tended the big boilers that kept the building comfortable.

CREW THAT KEEPS HEIGHTS SHINING — (front to back) Mrs. Nadine Holmes, Robert H. Delhotal, Mr. Sammie Jackson, Mr. Holger Anderson, Mr. Donald Florence, and Mr. Ivan Stephens.

student council

wants involved activity

INVOLVEMENT was something every member experienced this year as Student Council members steered elections, promoted the United Fund campaign, and sponsored dances among their many and varied activities. They also initiated the making of the first float which was used in Homecoming ceremonies in October.

Participation of representatives was live when members raised questions and debate followed. Voicing dissent or approval was their privilege and they used it.

Catching the heart throb of the school, President Zach Ruhl, assisted by Vice-President Steve Lusk and Treasurer Anne Gorham, supervised the many activities.

Chief source of funds, all-school dances, supplied the money for their projects.

talon '70

catches Falcons in action

WITH THE DESIRE to create a better yearbook one that would weave the theme tempo into every page and preserve for you the memorable events of this year the Talon staff of 13 faced ever-present deadlines — never missing one. Our photographers were sent scurrying after action and more action shots for the Falcons were a lively bunch . . . we wanted to capture that in spirit pictures.

This Talon '70 was created in six months. The staff also published and sold the Hotline, your student directory, as well as compiling the senior magazine in the spring.

AH, the AGONY . . . the ECSTACY . . . it was worth it!

highlighter

speaks out on issues

STRIVING FOR a more interesting and informative paper Highlighter staff members wrote articles covering student achievements, social events, and classroom activities many of which were accompanied by story telling pictures of larger size and better composition than previous years.

Three staff members, Kristy Chambers, Sherri Alderman, and Jack Huttig attended the June Kansas State Publications Workshop in Manhattan where they learned how to write better story coverage and participated in the Drug Abuse Clinic sponsored by the Mental Health Foundation.

The paper, never less than a six-page tabloid, also published several eight-page issues and a twelve-page Christmas issue which featured student ads and submitted articles.

Staff members, challenged constantly by deadlines, ever on the alert for news stories, feature articles, and ads found that logical analysis, lucid writing, and in-depth writing were essential ingredients of good journalism.

To increase reader interest reporters conducted polls, wrote editorials about school problems, and attempted to promote better school relations through more thorough news coverage.

In the spring staff members elected the Most Valuable Staffer who was honored at the Wichita Eagle & Beacon awards dinner along with other area nominees.

They realized two goals — to become more proficient in writing and to serve student needs.

EDITORS — Sherri Alderman (Left) and Kristy Chambers used teamwork toward an All-American rating.

foreign language club meetings involve all

FRENCH CLUB members met bimonthly. They corresponded with pen pals in France regularly, visited a French art exhibit in Kansas City, and gathered for lunch at an exquisite French restaurant.

GERMAN KLUB members began their activities by sponsoring European lectures at their monthly meetings. The club joined the National Federation of Students of German. The observance of the German holidays was also enjoyed by the club members, especially Saint Nicholas Day.

LATIN CLUB, 45 members, highlighted their year's activities with the annual Roman banquet. The state meeting at Sterling College, January 31, and a cast party, given for those in the Greek play "Antigone" also came under their list of activities. At one meeting guest speakers explained the origination of common names. The proposal of a city-wide JCL organization was introduced at another meeting.

SPANISH CLUB members started their year with guest speakers from Mexico and Spain at their monthly meetings. Club members competed with other Spanish students reciting poetry, prose, and enacting a skit at WSU's Spanish Day. Braver ones even sang songs in Spanish. Carrying out a Spanish custom, the club had a pinata booth at the senior carnival.

every student performs

STARTING the year with an "Evening of Comedy," every drama student participated, boosting the cast to 180. The title was changed this year because this was the first year it was all comedy. After the hard working hours of "Evening of Comedy," the students began preparing for forensic team contests. Many long hours were spent in selecting the proper material to use. The spring play was "By the Skin of Our Teeth." To climax the year came the musical "Mame." There will be another year of Thespians, working crews, rehearsals, but for some this was the end, for others only the beginning.

vocal music

creates a special world

MUSIC CREATED a special world for approximately 270 students enrolled in the vocal music department. A well-filled schedule kept members busy entertaining various civic organizations, clubs, churches, and schools.

Beginning with a fall concert and continuing throughout the year, vocal groups performed for the student body in assemblies and for the community at evening concerts, vespers, television programs, and in the spring musical production "Mame".

New outfits for the madrigals lent a gay note to their performances. Risers and choral shells were new additions to the music department.

Heights was represented in the Kansas Music Educators Association state chorus, a select group of 225 singers from schools in the western half of the state. Vocalists also participated in the Wichita City Music Festival and the Kansas State Music Festival.

captures regional meet

FOR THE FIRST TIME — debaters captured the regional championship trophy at the WSU tournament. To Mrs. Kathleen Catt this was an accomplishment since this was her first year teaching.

Debating the proposition of prohibiting "unilateral United States military intervention in foreign countries," the squad collected five trophies. Those earning first place honors were experienced debaters V. Kelly, N. Robinson, C. Schneider, and J. Zandt, while novice debaters L. Hensley and M. Hejtmanek added another first. J. Baker and L. Huffman were award winners too. Debaters hosted the annual Silver Challenge meet with teams from Kansas and Missouri competing. Thirteen new members qualified for NFL membership.

SOME FIRSTS — in activities were scored this year by the Lettermens Club. In addition to sponsoring three fun nights, the club had charge of concessions at some football, basketball, and wrestling contests.

Selling red cushions emblazoned with the school name and Falcon in black print was another money-making project of the letter wearers. Another first was producing the play "Sleeping Beauty" which was a specialty of the football team. Proceeds went to the Greg Evans Fund, the injured South High player.

Head basketball mentor Layfayette Norwood, in his first year at Heights, sponsored the club and was invaluable with suggestions and ideas.

"WE'RE NO. 1" — was a chant often heard by the Pep Club, however, the No. 1 can also be applied to the 400 member Pep Club as they met their demanding duties. Heading this list of accomplishments were three sports banquets, Homecoming, and the Sweetheart Dance. Delivering hundreds of Val-o-grams, the Pep Club played the role of Cupid, February 13. To create spirit, an all-club poster party policy went into effect, and sergeants-of-arms for the first time were voted into office. The powder-puff game exemplified this No. 1 spirit for it was all in fun.

Falcons soar; 5-4 season best in history

varsity beats west; rings up winning season

PROVIDING THE FALCON FANS with suspense and anticipation, the Heights football squad waited until the final game of the season to record the first winning football finish in the school's nine-year history.

Coach Jack Mahan, in his second year as head Falcon mentor, along with assistants Ron Johnson, Hugh Nicks, and Don Turner, guided the varsity to a five-win, four-loss standing.

Records the 1969-70 Falcons left rewritten include winning four of the first five games, the win-loss record, and also a 21-2 victory over West marked the first time a Heights varsity team has beaten the Pioneers.

Heights beat Salina in a narrow 7-6 decision to start the ball rolling and rolled up four victories to one defeat before being halted by Carrol, South, and Southeast.

harriers cop sixth in state, best school rating

AT THE STATE meet in Wamego, November 8, Falcon harriers closed their season with a sixth place finish.

Sixth place, the highest a Falcon harrier team has ever finished, was lead by Mark Jackson, '71, who paved the way for all Falcon runners by finishing No. 15 with a 9:53 clocking.

The Falcons compiled 134 points while winners Shawnee Mission South captured 57.

Led by Captain Doug Lee's ninth place, the harriers grabbed a third place finish at the regional meet at Echo Hills, November 1. South nosed out Southeast by 12 points with the Falcons 33 points behind.

The squad was lead by six senior returning lettermen: Vaughn Anderson, Ken Barnett, Doug Lee, Kim Mandle, Robert Onstott, and Mark Jackson. The Falcons, figured in as one of the top contenders for the City League crown, were forced into only a third place finish because of illness.

Placing second in the Hutchinson invitational and their own invitational highlighted the harriers season. This season the Falcons beat all City League teams with the exception of South.

no. 1 dream 'championship in '70' comes true

NUMBER ONE!

For years it was just a Falcon fantasy, "years of frustration" the Wichita Eagle said, but it was all over.

After suffering an opening season loss to Hutchinson, 81-76, the Falcons blasted West, 84-43, and finished the first round League action with the narrowest margin of victory, an 11-point victory over East.

Upset in the first round by McPherson in the Bullpup's Tournament, 70-66, a seven-game streak was halted, but Heights rebounded for fifth with consecutive wins over Newton and Parsons.

Back to Henry Levitt Arena, the games became tougher, and more than once the now famous Falcon second-half rally had to be used.

Down the final stretch and first year Head Coach Lafayette Norwood's "Championship in '70" became truth with big wins over the North Redskins and rival Southeast Buffalos.

By finishing League play undefeated, Heights became the second City League team to ever accomplish such a feat. Four full games ahead of runners-up North and SE made the triumph "that much sweeter."

A loss to Hutchinson opened and closed the season, but, between those two failures, the most successful finish in Heights history was recorded.

PACED BY seniors Keith Richey and Brit Alley, the Falcon swimmers captured third place in City League competition.

Although fourth in win-loss records, Heights earned third place in the Wichita Invitational, the official determiner of City rankings.

Coach Ernest Drowatzki directed Heights swimmers for the first time this year. When at East, his team earned three state championships.

At the state meet in Lawrence, Richey placed second in the 100-yard butterfly. Ron Olson, '70, took fourth in the butterfly, Alley grabbed third in the 200-yard individual medley.

WITH THE POINTS earned mainly by two Falcon gymnasts, senior Mike Wharton and sophomore Lafayette Childs, the gymnastics team tied with West for third in the City League race. They were fifth in the regional.

Wharton, 70, a double winner in the City, grabbed firsts in free exercise and in tumbling; Childs copped first in the long horse. Both finished City League competition undefeated.

At the regional Wharton was third in free exercise and tumbling. Childs nabbed a second in the long horse.

FALCON WRESTLERS captured the City League title for the sixth consecutive year. The title was assured, January 22, when Heights romped over North 40-8. In City competition, the nearest an opponent came was 16 points.

Qualifying six berths in state competition they came home with a fourth place trophy. State championships went to senior Dave Nigg and junior John Kadel.

"Hard work and desire of our wrestlers is the reason behind the record," said Coach Dee Gard about the all-victorious City League championships. Coach Gard, completing his seventh year as head coach, has produced six consecutive City League and one state champion squad, 1968.

Falcons earning all-state honors under Coach Gard's tutelage are Jerry Verbeck, Bob Lunt, Doug Lunt, Geary Murdock, David Nigg, and John Kadel.

new courts welcome; highlight'70 season

SIX NEW TENNIS COURTS, completed last December, assured Falcon netmen practice sessions and a more equal chance to meet their opponents in game play.

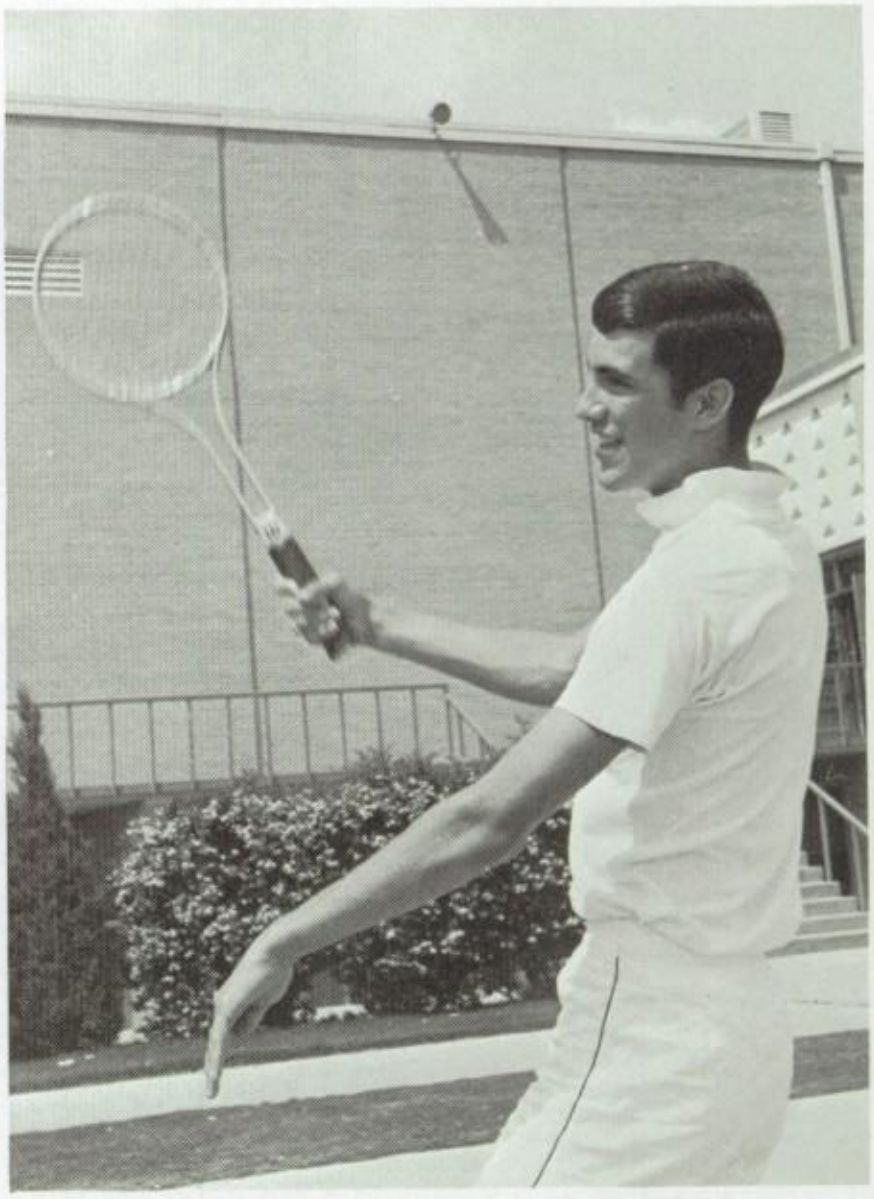
Before last spring tennis squads, forced to practice on WSU busy courts, could not get in enough practice hours. This resulted in lack of team unity and inability to develop their potential.

Recognizing the need for courts, the Board of Education after an orderly student protest march in front of the Central Vocational Building where they were in session, granted the request.

Last spring the Falcons were fifth in CL ranking with wins over Carroll, East, and North, and losses to Kapaun, West, South, and Southeast.

At the Emporia regional, captain Stan Taylor, '69, advanced to the quarter finals where he missed qualifying for the state meet.

Returning lettermen for the '70 season were senior Keith Richey and juniors Colin Wood and Mike Prokes.



ALMOST ANY PLACE — to practice was the story until this spring when K. Richey, 70, and the netmen had their own courts.

SETTING EIGHT new records, the '69 trackmen virtually rewrote existing school track statistics.

Steve Lee, '69, set mile, two-mile records, and clipped the half-mile run with a 1:59.6 timing. Rocky Gillenwater, '69 soared 13'3" clearing the 13' mark several times during the season.

Louis Strother, '69, added eight inches to his long-jump mark with a 22' 3" leap at the North Invitational. Ron Ralstin tossed the discus 154'3" to cinch another school record. Lars Fischer, '69, smashed John Cornett's 189' 11" javelin record with a 190' 2" throw at the City meet.

Vernon Smith, '69, Dexter Kelly, '69, Robert Onstott, '70, and Mark Jackson, '71, raced to an 8:04.0 clocking at the City League meet breaking a school record of 8:16.8 set earlier in the season.

The Falcons won their own invitational with Strother, Lee, the 880-relay team, Ralstin, Gillenwater all winning first place medals.

At the Southwestern relays the Falcons won the second place trophy. Lee nipped South's Dave Houchin to repeat as winner of the mile.

In the City League meet the Falcons were fourth. At the regional at Heights, the Falcons won the runner-up spot coming in second behind Southeast.

Fisher was the lone Falcon to win first place at the state meet in Emporia. Strother was third in the long jump; Lee was third in the mile. The two-mile relay team finished second.

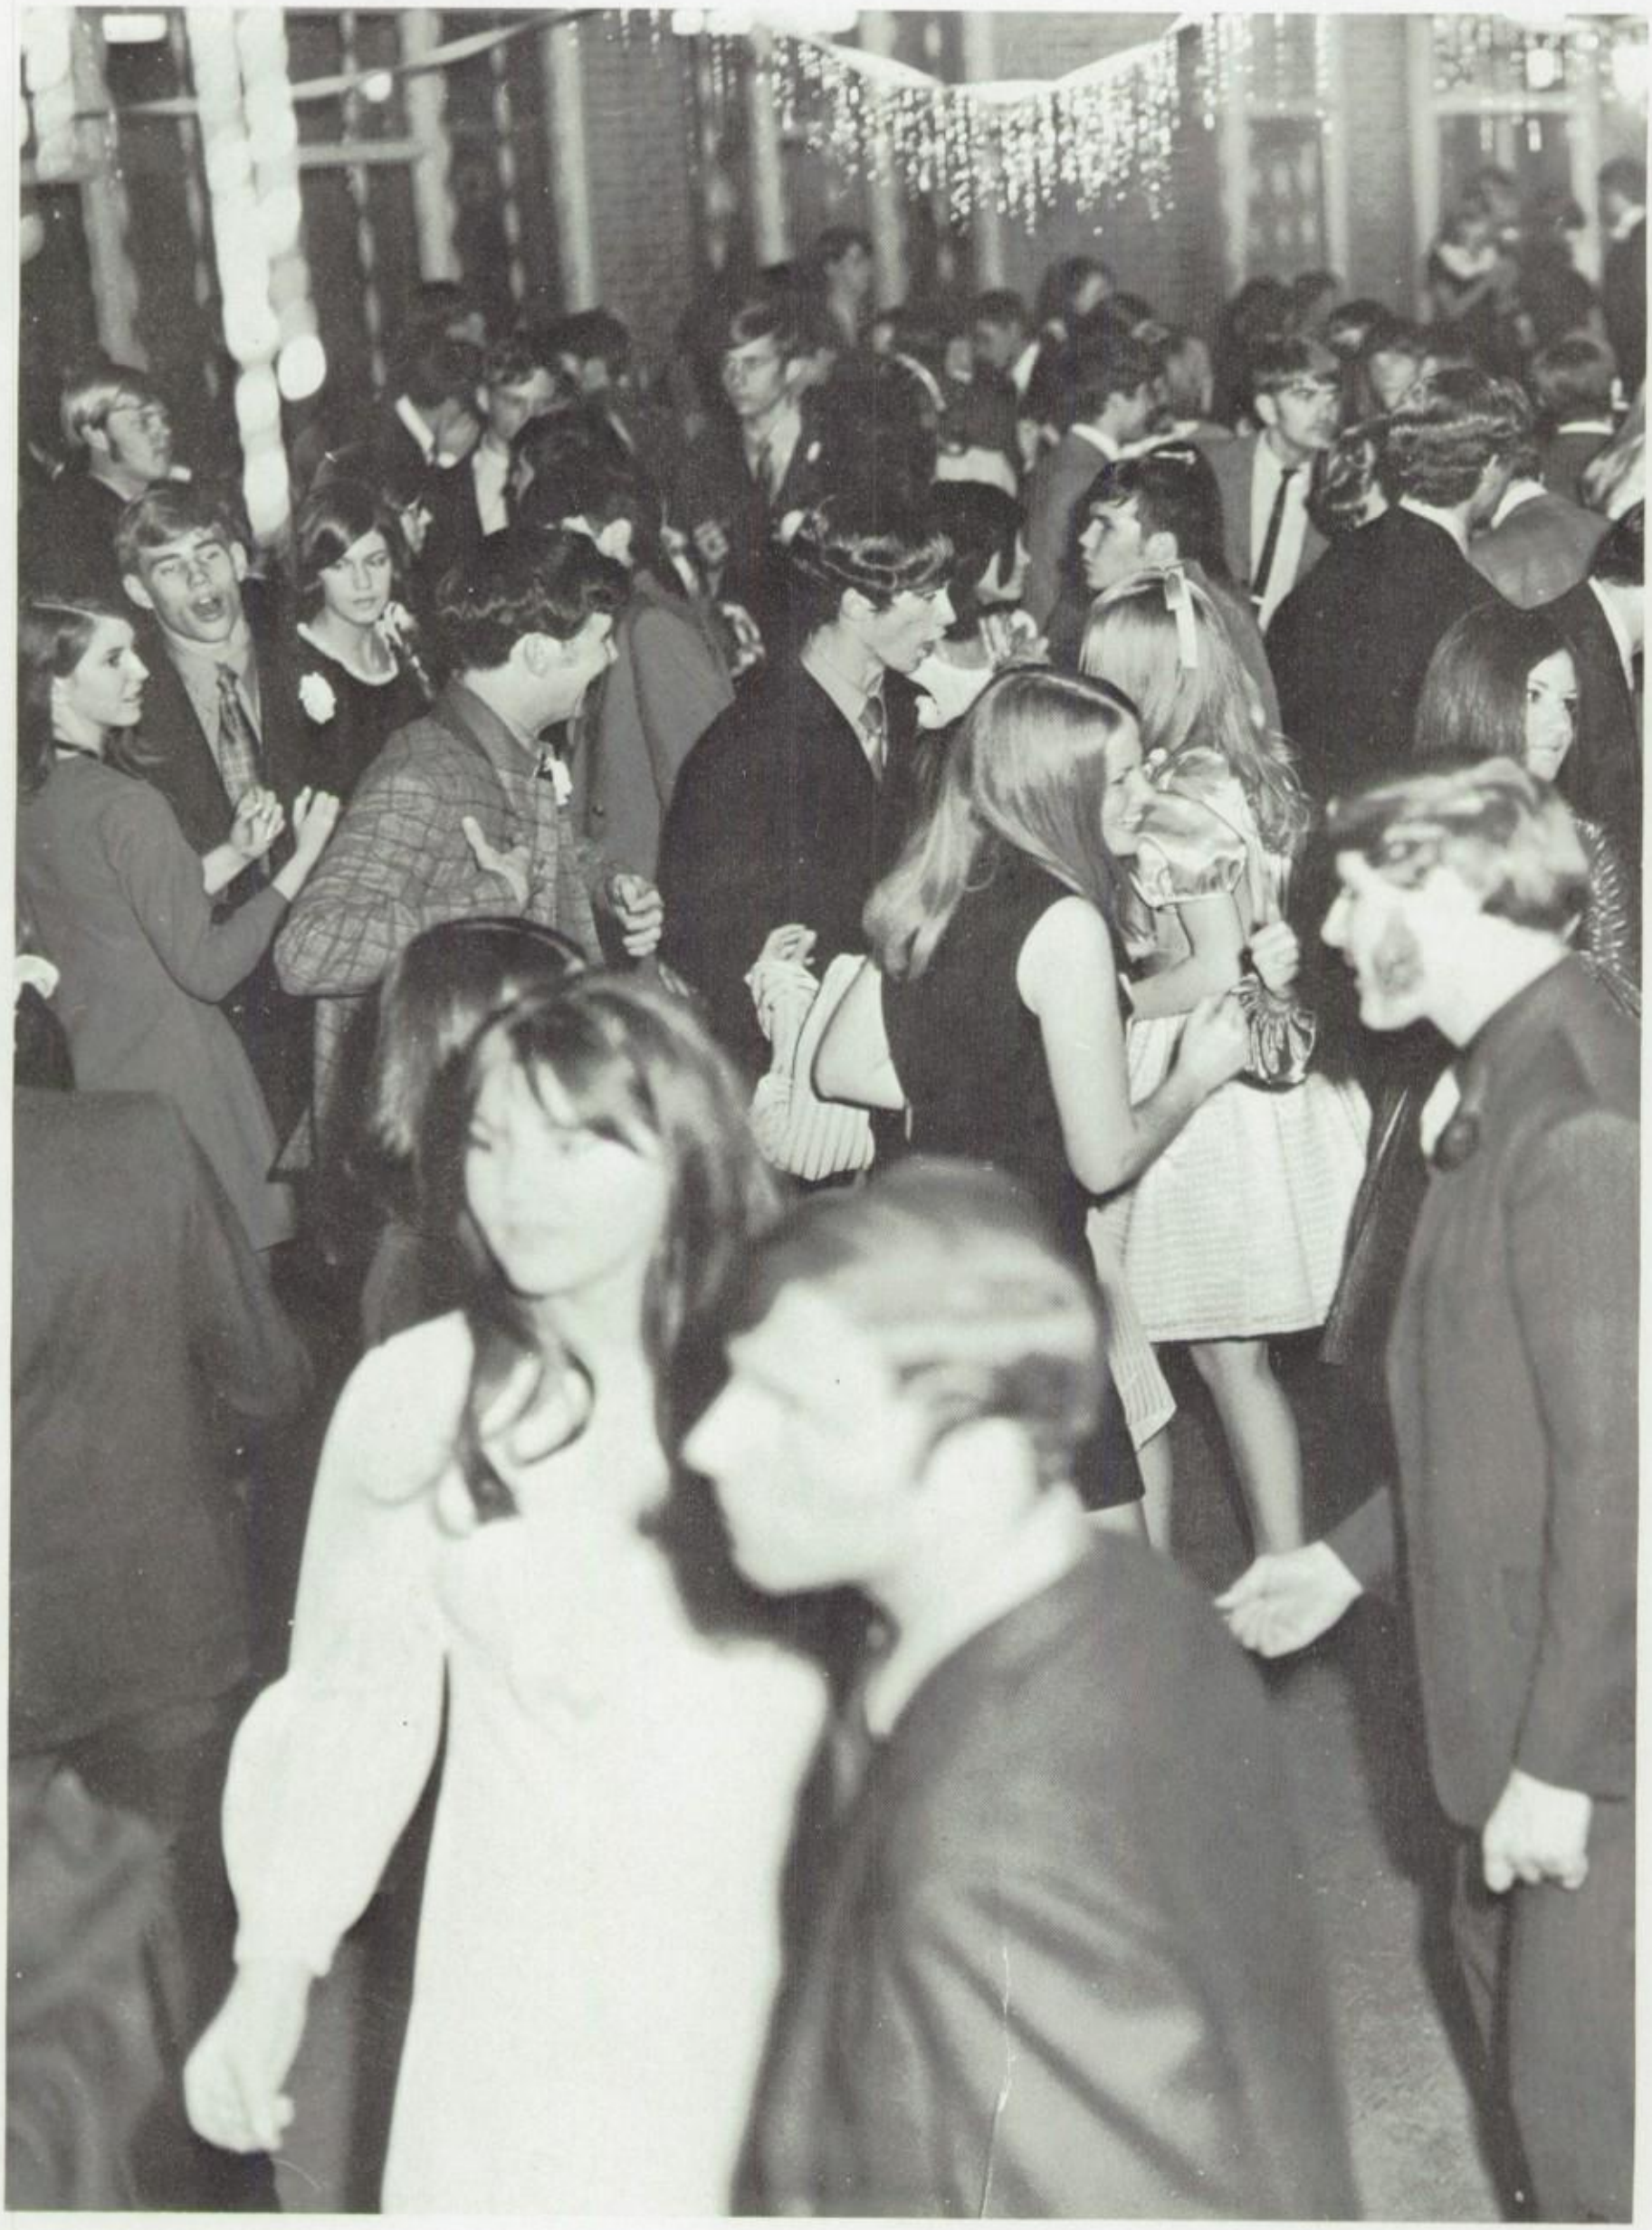
tempo for friendship



explore new freedoms

TRUDGING DOWN the overcrowded halls early in September wide-eyed sophomores entered Falconland hoping to become a part of the Mighty Falcon team of 1,677 strong.

Before school started they completed their enrollment forms, had their pictures taken for the yearbook, and 325 purchased activity tickets.

The crew of 581 explored all of the new freedoms, regulations, faces, and traditions. Getting to know the 580 other Baby Falcons was an initial project for each member of the Class of '72, the largest ever at Heights.

They soon joined in activities uniting with the more experienced upper classmen. They took part in drama productions, joined clubs, attended dances, became involved in Student Council sponsored drives, formed their own sophomore choir, ran for offices, participated at fun nites, went to games, and even vied for favorite places in the Commons Area to chat with their friends before school, at noon, and after school. They weren't a bashful bunch.

Transferring to a senior high school took some adjustment, but time made the difference. They became real Falcons.

gain self-assurance

FROM INSECURITY to self assurance, from ignored sophomores to leaders, that is what happens in the junior year. For the 561 members of the Class of '71 the self conciousness and strangeness of last year was replaced by a feeling of becoming a full-fledged Falcon.

The first accomplishment was the winning of the United Fund trophy. This wasn't unusual, because the class had raised over $600 during the summer. They had proved their aggressiveness and desire to achieve.

As the year progressed, Class of '71 members found themselves engulfed in a whirl of dances, grade cards, games, and National Merit Tests. Planning the junior-senior prom, collecting data for their research themes, and standing patiently in line to order their class rings were events faced by the juniors.

After ushering the seniors to and from their seats at commencement exercises, they became the top class at school. The conquering Class of '71 moved on to fulfill their dreams — becoming seniors.

'do their own thing'

CRAZY DAYS occasionally became mixed up with serious ones, but the class of '70 enjoyed both kinds.

Rising to their top berth as seniors in the midst of the age of dissent, they added a special kind of enthusiasm to their activities ... the many senior-sponsored events: the chili suppers, the powder puff game which the seniors won (26-6), the times the Mighty Seniors out-yelled the other classes and won the Spirit Stick at assemblies, and the successful senior carnival.

The first nine weeks 65 seniors made the honor roll, as many as the two lower classes totaled together.

Scholarships started coming in to Mrs. Johnson, counselor who had been with the seniors all three years, early in March. Three seniors were nominated for All-American teenagers. These were but a few of their accomplishments.

The Great we are, the Best we be we're the Class of '70.

SERIOUS MOMENTS — were spent in government classes as seniors studied, researched and discussed problems fronting the United Nations.

BOARD OF EDUCATION — Mrs. Evelyn Whitcomb, Mr. John C. Frye, Mr. Robert M. Beren, Mr. John Michener, Mrs. Ruby Tate, Superintendent of Schools Dr. Alvin E. Morris, Mr. Robert L. Davis (Board President), Dr. Gary N. Pottorf (Board Vice-President), Mrs. Jeanette Holmes, Dr. Don L. Miller, Mrs. Edwana Collins, Dr. James M. Donnell, Mr. Darrell D. Kellogg.

FIFTH QUARTER — after games found seniors K. Richey, C. Baugher, D. McGinty, R. Crandon, and D. Matson talking about the Falcon Victory.

boe runs it; we enjoy it

IT WAS A BUSY YEAR — for the Board of Education; it was both a busy and a fun year for the Falcons.

The BOE was faced with new and important problems. The committee was often plunged into heated discussions of integration standards and cross busing. Much time was spent on this problem as well as others. Appreciation should be paid to the board for all their time and efforts in the betterment of the schools of Wichita.

Created to discuss with the BOE and try to overcome the problems of the local schools was the Youth Council on which three Heights students were chosen to voice the interests and needs of youth.

things we'll remember

FIRST SEMESTER — highlights brought forth a spirited Falcon week, Homecoming, a winning football season, new tennis courts, permission for girls to wear pant suits, the Christmas dance, the start of a winning basketball season, scholarship applications, semester grades . . .

The astronauts made a second moon landing, a decade came to an end, Mr. Deb Johnson wore a full beard then shaved to sideburns, honor passes were debated . . .

The tempo was set . . . the Falcons kept the pace.

1. A SPECIAL TOUCH — for the Christmas tree was given by Kay Parrish, '70. 2. SHOELESS — but in command Mrs. Criss directs Homecoming formalities. 3. COME ON AND GET ME! — challenges Jeff Lee, '71. 4. SERIOUS — Larry Jabara, '71, wears his glasses to protect his eyes when doing chemistry experiments. 5. HIM OR HER — because the whiskers made security guard Vern Graves sneeze, Dee Dee Edwards, '71, played the role of Santa. 6. FOR THE FIRST TIME — pantsuits were worn to school. With Santa are Pam Bowman, '72, and Linda Littleton, '72.

Falcon fecundity

MORE RESPONSIBILITY — more trust was the cry heard across the Nation in the areas of school administration and parental control. Heights students voiced their pleas through the Class of '70 for they were the leaders, the doers.

Among the innovations was the senior Honor Pass system which allowed them the option of attending classes providing their grades maintained a 3.5 average. A Student Activities Council formed by the administration met to outline the year's events.

The Class of '70 acted as the guinea pigs for these innovations . . . suggestions and decisions were made by students . . . the continuance of their relationship is left to future senior classes.

Late sleepers who came to school hungry could dash into the cafeteria for a glass of milk and a donut . . . 21 seniors took part in the Friends Model United Nations meet and were rated third best for their efforts . . . numerous psychology trips acquainted students with the "real thing" . . . the Class of '70 dominated each nine weeks honor roll — now the seniors toss the torch to the Class of '71 with "It's up to you!"

1. MEASURING — for caps and gowns. 2. IT'S UP TO YOU NOW — point out seniors Eric Elving, Vickie Rogers, Wayne Lovelace, Pati Needham, and Doug Matson. 3. THE END — of the beginning for Class of '70 comes as they walk down the aisle at Henry Levitt Arena, May 21. 4. INTO THE FUTURE — go Falcon graduates to find their special places in the world.

YOU'RE FANTASTIC, FALCONS — that's my cheer. As your head cheerleader and Talon '70 editor I hope that I have given back to you just one-half the happiness you have given me as I worked with you. Coming to Room 122 at 7:30 a.m. or earlier for pictures, buying ribbons, cheering for the Falcons were but a few of the things you did willingly during the year. I'll never work with a greater group of people! Thank you so much, Sandy.

NAP TIME — for Bill Baxter, '70, before football practice was the "soft" cafeteria table and his letter jacket which provided privacy.

A new world coming

A NEW DECADE — the seventies, greeted the Falcons the second semester.

A victorious basketball team . . . a first place regional debate trophy . . . senior cap and gown measurement in the auditorium, February 4, made commencement seem nearer . . . the March 21 senior carnival . . . spring came with its crocus, daffodils, and green grass . . . the new tennis courts received their first tryouts . . . the pressure of remaining days grew more tense . . . the prom, en grande tenue, at the Cotillion claimed the spotlight filling each minute with memories . . . senior week with its special privileges left but a few hours for the Class of '70 to enjoy their oneness . . . then commencement at Henry Levitt Arena — this was the end for the Class of '70, yet the beginning . . .

Seniors gathered happily in the circular walkways of Henry Levitt Arena, May 21, wearing caps and gowns. They chatted with friends, classmates, and well wishers.

Lining up they ascended to the second level of the field house then descended the stairs to the main floor and their seats. Crossing the stage . . . and with that diploma in hand it was a new world.

THIS WAS A NO! NO! — Banners are not permitted at Henry Levit Arena because some over-zealous sports fans overflowing with revenge cause trouble in previous years so these too were lowered.

just a minute, please

NOTHING can be more demanding than a deadline, and members of the 1970 Talon staff experienced their quota. Yes, many hours were spent in fun and laughter, however, the work required for compiling an outstanding book presented a challenging and rewarding project.

Striving to capture the tempo of Heights with action pictures and copy and then weaving them into a meaningful account of a memorable year involved planning layouts, cropping and pasting photographs, plus writing and typing pages of copy.

The Talon '70 staff wishes to thank everyone who helped turn their dream into a reality.

Special thanks go to Mr. Murl Jones, Student Photos, for our colored pages, to Mr. Frank Wright, American Yearbook Company representative, and to photographer David Haney, '71, who took a large number of the pictures.
